

Charter4Change – Localisation of Humanitarian Aid

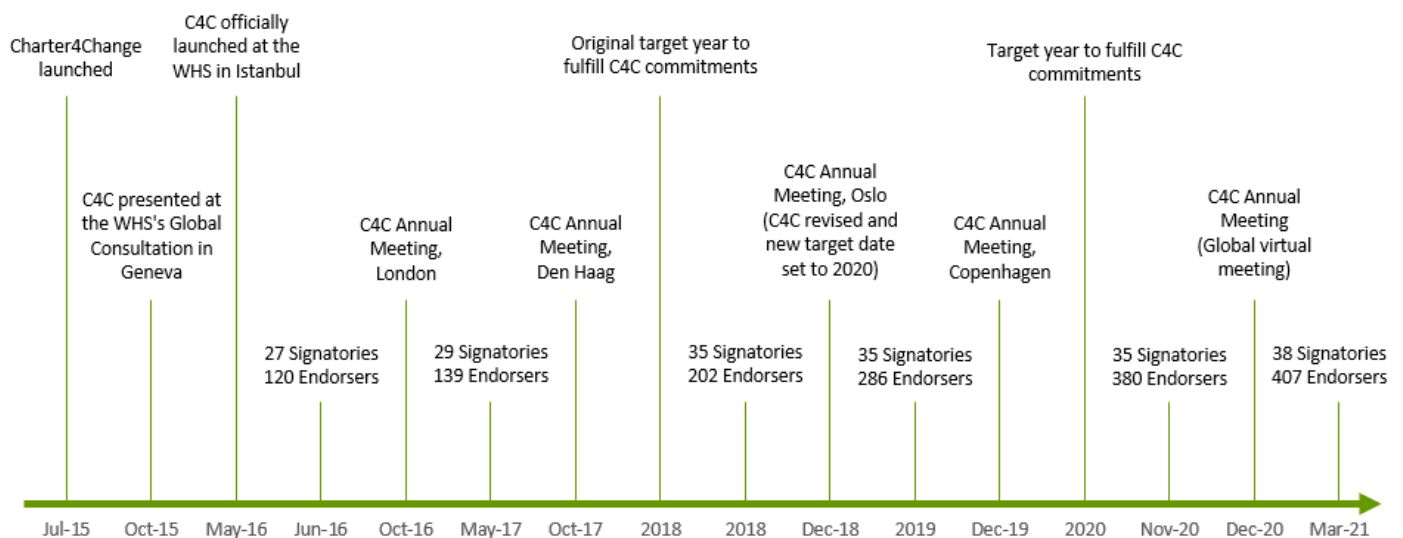

1. Introduction

The Charter4Change¹ (C4C) is an initiative that aims to transform the way the humanitarian system operates to enable local and national NGOs to play an increased and more prominent role in humanitarian response. International NGOs are encouraged to play an active part in this transformation towards a more locally-driven humanitarian system by changing the way that they work.

The Charter for Change was launched in July 2015 by CAFOD, Christian Aid, DanChurchAid and ADESO. It was initially presented at the World Humanitarian Summit’s (WHS) Global Consultation in Geneva in October 2015, and officially launched at the WHS in Istanbul in May 2016. The C4C brings together 38 international NGOs Signatories² working to implement the 8 Commitments³ to address imbalances and inequality in the global humanitarian system. They are joined by more than 400 national and local NGO Endorsers⁴, keen to encourage their INGO partners to improve their partnership practices in order to deliver better outcomes for crisis-affected people.

With the continued success of the C4C initiative as a peer support and influencing network, additional signatories and endorsers have been signed up since May 2016 and are now participants in the C4C initiative. In the 2018 C4C Annual Meeting in Oslo, signatories and endorsers both agreed that the initiative was successful in driving change – both at policy and at organizational change levels – and needed to continue beyond the original target date. The target date was therefore adjusted to 2020.

2. The 8 Charter4Change Commitments

The Charter for Change includes 8 Commitments that INGO Signatories agree to implement, to address imbalances and inequality in the global humanitarian system. The commitments focus on issues of equality, effectiveness, transparency, representation, funding and resource recognition, and support for local capacity.

3. C4C Endorsers - Roles and Responsibilities

Do you agree that the Charter for Change is an important initiative to support change in humanitarian action? Do you agree that INGOs should implement the 8 points in their organisational ways of working? Endorse and support the Charter for Change (C4C)! You can endorse the Charter by clicking on 'ENDORSE' here⁵ or by writing to admin@charter4change.org.

To complement the C4C commitments, endorsers have also launched their own initiative, the Charter of Accountability⁶ (COA), to ensure that they make the people affected of crisis as the focus of their humanitarian work and make themselves accountable to them. Sign the Charter of Accountability⁷ (COA) by clicking here⁸ or by writing to admin@charter4change.org.

By endorsing the Charter for Change, you can:

- Participate in the C4C Endorsers discussion group where C4C endorsers share information, and discuss progress and challenges related to implementation of the Charter for Change
- Help hold INGOs to account in their partnerships
- Actively encourage INGOs to sign the C4C and commit to localisation
- Identify creative ways to mobilise L/NNGOs to actively engage in the localisation and C4C process (e.g. convening country-level dialogue/webinars)
- Advocate with C4C signatories for the common goals of the C4C

 - If you would like to participate, you can view the terms of reference for the group here¹¹ and apply for membership here.¹²

Tearfund and CAFOD have agreed to act as co-leads to get the group started. The group's purpose and tasks are to:
 - Capture local actor's reflections on their CS experiences
 - Identify what CS driven by the demands of local actors could look like
 - Identify what support local actors need to take the initiative to drive their organisation's growth
 - Share CS tools, resources and learning from CS experiences

 - If you would like to participate, you can view the terms of reference for the group here¹⁴ and apply for membership here.¹⁵
 - C4C Endorsers Task Group¹⁶: The Charter for Change Endorsers task group consists primarily of endorsers and a few signatory representatives to define and drive forward an enhanced role for national NGO endorsers in the C4C process. The group facilitates dialogue among endorsers of the Charter4Change to share information and discuss progress and challenges related to implementation of the Charter4Change.
